Task 1

Read the text and answer questions 1 - 6.

Paragraph 1
Title: A vast hall for a museum
The new Camberwall Science Museum is enormous. It is big enough to house two large aeroplanes. Even more impressive is how the museum workers and the design team have filled the space with more than fifty eye-catching and informative displays.

Paragraph 2
Title: ________________________
The most popular exhibit is a 15-metre model of the human body, designed so that you can climb inside it and explore such things as the lungs, heart and digestive system. Once inside, real-life recordings of these parts of the body can be heard, which is both fascinating and strange. Another attraction is the Age Machine, a computer that scans your face and allows you to see how you will look in 10, 20, or even 50 years’ time. On our visit, this programme had adults laughing out loud and children delighted. One schoolteacher told us that she was “deeply impressed” by how much the children had learned about the ageing process. Clearly the museum educators have got something right.

Paragraph 3
Title: The problems of being popular
Despite these good points, there are some drawbacks, even to this extraordinary museum. One is that it can get incredibly crowded at weekends and on weekdays at around lunchtime. Queuing for tickets can take up to 30 minutes and finding a seat at the café can be a difficult task. Another minus point is that there are not enough audio guides for visitors to use, even at quiet periods. Nevertheless, these minor issues do not spoil the enjoyment you will have and the knowledge you will gain on a visit to this truly fantastic attraction.

Paragraph 4
Title: Looking at a brainwave
One interesting exhibit looks like a kind of old fashioned toy with two long wooden arms. In the past, two people tried to use this at the same time to measure the speed of thought. It is very hard to use and difficult to see what they found out in the end. However, it is interesting to see how they tried to find out about psychology and thinking in the past.

Paragraph 5
Title: A holiday activity
If you are a parent desperately looking for something to entertain your bored children during those hard-to-fill school holidays, a day trip to the museum is ideal. All in all, it is a very welcome addition to the cultural landscape of the city.

Carer Application Form

Being a carer with us is a fantastic job and we show this by the way we employ, train and pay you, which is very different from any other provider.

- Employment contract - we are not an agency
- Shares in our business
- Free training programme (during which you are paid)
- Flexible work time

Read about our ‘live-in’ care
We provide care in the home so that you can develop long-term relationships because you give one-to-one support - a residential care home could not achieve this level of care.

Most of our clients choose live-in care which means that the clients have some support most of the day and night. We provide daily care for 7 to 13 consecutive hours of a day.

Specialist Training
We train our carers to understand what our clients really want and need. All our carers, whatever their experience, complete a specialist training programme before they are placed with a client. There are eleven modules and these are the first four modules:

Module 1 - Your goal and effective communication
Module 2 - The role of the home carer, personal care and ageing issues
Module 3 - Moving, handling and protection
Module 4 - Introduction to home care

All our training is linked to Skills for Care and is our own professional qualification.

Testimonials
This is why people choose us as an employer and here are some views from our carers:

“I am very thankful to Service Care for finding me such a wonderful placement.” Tina

“My placement gave me the opportunity and support to improve my knowledge and skills and my client’s life.” Dora
