Introduction

English Speaking Board (International) Ltd. (ESB International) offers high quality Speech and Language qualifications in the UK and internationally. It aims to promote clear communication at all levels and recognises the potential of all.

The assessments are marked and administered externally by ESB International. ESB International also provides training to teachers and assessment staff, and its team carry out inspections of assessments and oral examinations in a variety of venues.

ESB International's ESOL International qualifications are mapped to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and are designed to encourage progression.

Qualification criteria

This specification describes the ESB Level 3 Certificate in ESOL International All Modes (C2), covering Speaking, Listening, Reading, Writing and Use of English. It is intended to support ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) teachers and learners in the classroom and includes information on how the assessments will be conducted and the range of language to be assessed.

ESB Level 3 Certificate in ESOL International All Modes
CEFR Level	C2
Assessment method	Paper-based tests – multiple choice completed on optical mark forms and externally marked and moderated. Writing tasks completed on paper in an answer booklet and externally marked and moderated. Speaking assessment conducted face-to-face with ESB trained oral examiners.
Regulation start date	1 st February 2008
Qualification number	500/3655/5
GLH/TQT *	300 hours / 330 hours
Age range	Children from age 11 to adult learners

* GLH (Guided Learning Hours) are the suggested number of hours for a learner to be taught by an English Teacher, tutor or other appropriate provider of education or training in preparing for this qualification.

TQT (Total Qualification Time) is an estimate of the total amount of time that could reasonably be expected for a learner to achieve the level of attainment necessary for this qualification. It includes both the number of hours assigned to a qualification for Guided Learning, and an estimate of the number of hours a learner will be likely to spend in preparing for the qualification with the tutor's guidance but not under his or her direct supervision.

All learners differ in their educational and personal circumstances, previous learning, motivation, and rate of learning, so these figures indicate the relative size of qualifications and are not definitive.

Qualification objective

The ESB Level 3 Certificate in ESOL International All Modes is the fourth of a portfolio of ESB ESOL International qualifications at B1, B2, C1 and C2 on the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). ESB ESOL International Examinations are designed to demonstrate the ability of non-native speakers of English to speak, listen, read and write in English and are suitable for learners wishing to improve their level of general English for personal, academic or professional reasons. These qualifications are appropriate for anyone from the age of 11 upwards and encourage progression and measure learners' attainment as they move through the CEFR levels on their learning journey. The four ESB ESOL International qualifications provide learners with the opportunity to achieve a high quality, internationally recognised qualification at the CEFR level appropriate to them and their educational circumstances.

C2 is the higher of the two C levels on the CEFR, which describes proficient users as those who can understand with ease virtually everything heard or read; summarise information from different spoken and written sources, reconstructing arguments and accounts in a coherent presentation, and express themselves spontaneously, very fluently and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in more complex situations.*

Prior knowledge, skills and understanding

There are no prior learning or formal qualification requirements for ESB ESOL International qualifications. Each qualification level in the ESB International ESOL qualification portfolio is a stand-alone qualification and learners are entered for listening, reading, use of English, writing and speaking at the same level. Learners should ensure that the qualification level they are entered for reflects their ability and needs.

Reasonable adjustments

ESB examinations are inclusive and open to all. Learners with special needs, disabilities and health conditions are welcomed and can apply for adjustments and accommodations. Special needs adjustments should be applied for through the centre where the exam is taken. Learners should inform their English teacher or centre as soon as they book the exam if they have any requirements, or email customer@esbuk.org.

Guidance for teachers

The specification and the examinations are designed to closely reference level C2 of the CEFR. Teachers are recommended to consult these Council of Europe publications: Council of Europe (2001). Common European framework of reference for languages: Learning, teaching, assessment. Cambridge, U.K: Press Syndicate of the University of Cambridge, and Council of Europe (2018). *Common European framework of reference for languages: Learning, teaching, assessment. 1. Listening

The learner can understand with ease virtually any kind of spoken language, whether live or broadcast, even when delivered at fast natural speed.

2. Speaking

The learner should be able to take part effortlessly in any conversation or discussion and have a good familiarity with idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms. He/she should be able to express him/herself fluently and convey finer shades of meaning precisely. If he/she has a problem, he/she can backtrack and restructure around the difficulty so smoothly that other people are hardly aware of it.

The learner should be able to present a clear, smoothly flowing description or argument in a style appropriate to the context and with an effective logical structure which helps the recipient to notice and remember significant points.

3. Reading

The learner should be able to understand virtually all forms of the written language, including abstract, structurally or linguistically complex texts such as manuals, specialised articles and literary works.

4. Writing

The learner should be able to write clear, smoothly flowing text in an appropriate style. He/she should be able to write complex letters, reports or articles which present a case with an effective logical structure which helps the recipient to notice and remember significant points. The learner should be able to write summaries and reviews of professional or literary works.

Speaking examination format

The face-to-face speaking examination takes place separately from the written paper. The candidate is examined in a pair with a partner. In the event of an odd number of candidates, examinations may be conducted with three candidates.

The total time of the examination is 15 minutes (23 minutes for 3 candidates) and it is split into three distinct parts. An assessor and interlocutor are present in the room. The candidates are asked questions by the interlocutor and the process is observed by the assessor.

At the end of the examination the interlocutor will award each candidate a holistic score. The assessor will award a more analytical set of marks based on their observation of the exam and more detailed criteria. The total number of marks available for each candidate is thirty.

Candidates are marked analytically in five distinct areas: grammar, vocabulary, interactive ability, discourse management and pronunciation. Details of the individual criteria can be found on page 23 of this document.

The examination is scripted and the interlocutor does not deviate from the script other than to select the topics and questions to be asked. Topics are rotated after each pair of candidates to ensure no subsequent candidates have an unfair advantage.

ESB ESOL International Speaking Examinations make use of a list of twenty prescribed topics.

Assessment, moderation and quality assurance

All completed scripts are marked and moderated by ESB's team of ESOL International Examiners and Moderators according to ESB policies.

Our markers are standardised and grade all written papers according to the ESB mark scheme which is linked to the CEFR level descriptors.

To ensure additional quality assurance throughout the process, all markers are moderated within each marking session and at least 20% of all written scripts are second marked to maintain standardisation levels.

Speaking examinations are carried out by ESB trained oral examiners according to our policies. Speaking examinations are marked as they happen. Both the interlocutor and the assessor award marks based on the ESB mark scheme linked to the CEFR level descriptors.

All ESOL International Oral Examiners are trained and standardised by our Chief Examiner and Senior Examiners. In addition to this, ESB teams conduct live and recorded moderations of these examiners across the centres during each examination period.

All multiple-choice answer sheets are marked electronically by ESB and are subject to rigorous scrutiny and checks to ensure their accuracy at every stage of the marking process.

Rating scales for Speaking

Mark C2	Grammar	Lexis	Interactive Ability	Discourse Management	Pronunciation
5	Comprehensive range of structures used accurately, appropriately and fluently. More or less error-free.	Consistently demonstrates a very extensive and comprehensive range of lexical competence.	Sustained interaction in both initiating and responding which facilitates natural, fluent communication. Very sensitive to turn-taking.	Consistently makes extensive, coherent and relevant contributions to facilitate the achievement of the task.	Use of stress and intonation puts no strain on listener and individual sounds are articulated clearly. Utterances are consistently understandable.
4.5	More features of band 4 than band 5.
4	Wide range of structures used accurately, appropriately and fluently but minor non-impeding errors present.	Evidence of an extensive and appropriate range of lexis with only occasional lapses.	Meaningful communication is largely achieved through initiating and responding effectively. Hesitation is minimal and the norms of turn-taking are generally applied.	Contributions are generally relevant, coherent and of an appropriate length. The task is dealt with effectively.	Stress and intonation patterns may cause minimal strain on listener. Individual sounds are generally articulated clearly.
3.5	More features of band 4 than band 3.
3	Reasonable range of structures used with generally consistent accuracy and fluency but some non-impeding errors are evident.	Lexis is mostly effective and appropriate although range and accuracy are restricted at times.	Sufficient and appropriate initiation and response generally maintained throughout the discourse although there may be some undue hesitation. Turn-taking norms may not always be observed.	Contributions are normally relevant, coherent and of an appropriate length but there may be occasional irrelevancies and incoherence. The task is dealt with satisfactorily.	Use of stress and intonation is sufficiently adequate for most utterances to be comprehensible. Some intrusive L1 sounds may cause difficulties for the listener.
2.5	More features of band 3 than band 2.
2	A rather limited range of structures. Consistent errors especially when attempting more ambitious grammatical forms.	Lexis is limited in terms of range and accuracy and lacking in precision.	Contributions limited and the patience of the listener may be strained by frequent hesitations. The norms of turn-taking are rarely observed.	Discourse is not developed adequately and may be incoherent and irrelevant at times. Task achievement is only partially realised.	Inadequacies in all areas of pronunciation put considerable strain on the listener.
1.5	More features of band 2 than band 1.
1	Very limited range with serious structural inaccuracy and lack of flexibility.	Insufficient and inappropriate range of lexis to deal with the task adequately.	Fails to initiate and/or respond. The interaction breaks down as a result of persistent hesitation. The norms of turn-taking are not observed.	Monosyllabic responses. Performance lacks relevance and coherence throughout. Task achievement is very limited.	Limited competence in all areas of pronunciation severely impedes comprehension.
0.5	More features of band 1 than band 0.
0	Too little speech to assess effectively.	Too little speech to assess effectively.	Too little speech to assess effectively.	Too little speech to assess effectively.	Too little speech to assess effectively.

Grammar: the range and accuracy of structures used. At C2 level, the candidate should be approaching mastery of the structures of the language and be able to demonstrate a very wide range of effective and appropriate forms and have the flexibility to achieve a wide variety of effects and functions without difficulty.

Vocabulary: the range of lexis employed and to the extent of its appropriate usage. At C2 level, the candidate should be able to draw on an extensive bank of lexical items to deal with both familiar and unfamiliar topics. Candidates should have sufficient lexical resources to convey abstract concepts and to move easily from one situation to another.

Interactive ability: the ability to use language effectively to engage in flowing, meaningful communication. This includes sensitivity to turn-taking, initiating, responding appropriately and repairing miscommunication.

Discourse management: the extent, coherence and relevance of the candidate's contributions. The focus is on the candidate's ability to maintain a flow of coherent language and manage and develop the discourse in order to achieve the task. Contributions should be of an appropriate length and relevant to the task. Hesitation will be only minimal and will not impede the development of the discourse.

Pronunciation: includes individual sounds, rhythm, stress and intonation. At C2 level, a candidate should demonstrate an ability to manipulate weak and strong sounds and to use pitch and range effectively at word and sentence level to heighten meaning and to convey attitudes. The prosodic features and individual sounds of the first language are obviously present but they are sufficiently modulated so as to cause no undue strain upon the listener.

General descriptors for Writing

C2 General Descriptor

The candidate can:

- write clear, smoothly flowing text in an appropriate style.
- write complex texts which present a case with an effective logical structure which helps the reader to notice and remember significant points.
- demonstrate a sufficiently well-developed level of accuracy and range of syntax, structure and lexis to enhance what he or she writes.

Pass Band Descriptor	Content and Appropriacy	Organisation and Cohesion	Language (Grammar and Vocabulary), Mechanics (Spelling and Punctuation)
	Style of text is almost entirely appropriate to the genre (i.e. essay, formal email). Content demonstrates considerable control over the set task type. Content is almost completely appropriate to the nature of the set task.	Text is paragraphed in such a way that it supports and enhances the logical flow of the text. Organisation of the text supports and aids the reader in following the line of argument/discussion taken in the piece of writing. Cohesion exists throughout the text and is carried out through the use of some complex and sophisticated cohesive devices. Cohesion supports & enhances the flow of the text and contributes to the successful achievement of the task.	Use of vocabulary and grammar is sufficiently complex to allow the conveying of finer shades of meaning and connotations to be precisely communicated. Vocabulary and grammar are consistently correct. Lapses in vocabulary are mainly due to the use of a specialist term in an area probably unfamiliar to the student. Spelling and punctuation are carried out with sufficient competence so as to support and enhance the text. The degree of control means that the reader is not distracted by any more errors than would reasonably be expected in a piece of writing by an educated proficient speaker writing under similar conditions.
